

Charities & Non-profit.

Audit, accounting and taxation services

When it's charities & non-profit

Working with non-profit entities to drive efficiency & elevate impact.

Unlike conventional businesses, success can't be measured by surplus. Your motivation isn't 'making lots of money' it's more about 'making an impact' on the people or causes you support.

Nevertheless, finance is still as important to you as it is to our commercial clients. But being non-profit, means you face unique financial and regulatory challenges. This demands a different perspective on accounting.

The PEM Charity and Non-profit team is 100% dedicated to providing tailored services, so you can focus on delivering the biggest possible impact to your beneficiaries and funders.

How PEM can help

Working with a team that understands your pressures

We take the complex challenges facing non-profits and develop solutions that make a difference to how you operate.

Our Charity and Non-profit team provides specialist audit and business advisory services to more than 250 charities and non-profits in the UK. We work with registered charities, registered companies with a social purpose, community benefit societies, CICs or CIOs

We work across the whole sector – from new start-up charities to well-established non-profits, such as the Cambridge Colleges. Our client list includes membership organisations, fundraising charities, grant-givers and endowed foundations, working in, amongst other areas, humanitarian aid, education, research, health, theatres and the arts.

This means every working day we're helping non-profit entities like yours to navigate the sector's complex financial and regulatory requirements.

Who We are

Energetic. Grounded. Smart. Not words usually associated with accountancy, but they're the key personality traits of PEM.

Founded in 1875, our now over 200 staff provide expert and reliable advice and services to more than 6,000 clients.

We will nurture a relationship with you that is open and jargon free – one where your needs are explored and understood. Whether our role is one of business support or audit, we will not refrain from giving our opinion. We're inquisitive and open. And we tailor our expertise to meet your unique needs.

We're here for you as a critical friend, providing support and challenging management as you develop and grow. And at every stage, we demonstrate integrity, applying our collective smartness to deliver certainty in an uncertain world.

Although our roots and heritage are firmly in Cambridge, our ambitions stretch far wider. We have the confidence to deliver our services in person and remotely, using our skilled team and network of advisers.
